FROM FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

President C. D. Jones Answers McLaughlin's Charge.

In speaking for the First National Bank, of which he is president, in regard to Senator McLaughlin's charge that the banks are not helping the farmers to obtain reasonable advances on their cotton, Mr. C. D. Jones gave The Lancaster News the following interview this morning:

"There is no foundation for the charge made by Mr. John L. McLaughlin, state warehouse commissioner, that the banks of South Carolina are hostile to the scheme of the federal reserve banks to advance money to farmers on warehouse cotton, certainly in so far as it may refer to the First National Bank of Lancaster. This bank has not received a single application for loan on warehouse cotton this year that has not been handled, and is still carrying considerable loans on cotton from last year. This bank, as it has always done, stands ready to consider applications for loans on cotton properly warehoused, with every disposition to aid and accommodate the farmers on terms reasonable and consistent with sound banking."

NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Luther Ellison Speaker at Hampton Organization.

Hampton Special to Charleston News and Courier, Sept. 26.—The business men of this town organized a Chamber of Commerce on Friday evening when Luther Ellison, secretary of the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce, spoke entertainingly of the good work done at Lancaster and other places by such organizations. At the meeting then nearly every business and professional man in Hampton became enthused over the prospects of a commercial awakening in this county and town and yesterday much interest was shown in the work of the numerous discussions on the streets.

MEET THE REQUIREMENTS.

Lancaster Should Continue Mail Delivery Service.

We notice that many homes are now equipped with mail receptacles and we hope that every residence in town will soon have a safe, convenient box in which the mail can be deposited. We further hope that the streets will be marked and the houses numbered. Those of us who have enjoyed the convenience of having our mail delivered at our homes twice daily appreciate the service and would not have it withdrawn. We urge therefore that all requirements be met before it is too late.

Our schedule will permit of but short stops at best and every member of the party is very desirous that no entertainment be provided by any of the visited cities.

Social News

The Friday Afternoon Book Club held its first session of the 1915-16 year at the home of one of its charter members, Mrs. L. C. Payson, at her hospitable home on White street. This was an unusually full meeting and quite an interesting one. After roll call and a reading of the minutes, current events were discussed and the president of the club, Mrs. T. Y. Williams, in happy vein welcomed the members, who for three months had not held a session. These congenial women each reciprocated the sentiments of the president for each one is glad that the club vacation is ended and the bi-monthly sessions of the club are anticipated with pleasure. After an entertaining reading by Mrs. Ernest Moore, a delightful social hour was enjoyed. The club has entered upon the Bay View course of study of the United States. An ice course and cake were the refreshments much enjoyed.

Miss Mary Gildersleeve Wylie's twelfth birthday was the occasion of her entertaining thirty of her friends at a merry party Saturday afternoon. After playing a number of the children's favorite games, they all participated in throwing at a bull's eye, in which contest Miss Sara Williams was the most proficient girl, winning the girls' prize, a rose painted trinket box, while Master Tom Funderburk among the boys proved the best marksman, winning the boys' prize, a Boy Scout story book. After a couple of hours of play, pink and white ices, cakes and mints were served on the porch and the birthday cake with its dozen candles was the center of interest. The hostess and her guests named the candles and blew them out, thus trying their youthful fortunes. As the guests departed the hostess bade them each to pluck a rose from a bush in the yard. The heart of each rose was filled with pink and white bon-bons. Many dainty gifts were left by the guests as souvenirs of this birthday occasion.

FARMERS NOT REFUSED.

Col. Springs Knows of No Local Case Where Advances Were Not Made.

Referring to the charge made by Hon. John L. McLaughlin, state warehouse commissioner, that Southern bankers were hampering the farmers in storing their cotton and getting advances on it, President Leroy Springs of the Bank of Lancaster, stated in an interview this morning that he knew of no case in this section where farmers had asked for advances on their cotton stored in responsible warehouses and liberal advances were not readily made by the banks.

He stated that his different mills and mercantile concerns had warehouses at Lancaster, Camden, Kershaw, Chester and Fort Mill with ample facilities for storing all the cotton that was offered to them for storage, and that he was sure the farmers would have no trouble in getting reasonable advances against same at the lowest prevailing rates of interest and knows of no case where advances are being refused.

REV. S. R. BROCK RESIGNS.

Pastorate of Second Baptist Church Will End Sunday.

Rev. S. R. Brock has resigned the pastorate of the Second Baptist church, his resignation to take effect next Sunday night, which ends the associational year. Mr. Brock has served this church very acceptably during the past year and many are the regrets that the relation of pastor and people are about to be dissolved. Mr. Brock has been faithful and earnest in the work in the mill community. Mrs. Brock's continued ill health prevents Mr. Brock's active participation in pastoral work in a community which needs much of his time and this is one reason Mr. Brock felt that he could no longer keep up the work. The Lancaster friends of Mr. and Mrs. Brock will be pleased to know that they will remain in Lancaster and that Mr. Brock will continue to serve his other charges in this county.

Meeting of Farmers.

There will be a meeting of the Farmers' Co-operative Association at Antioch, Saturday, October 2, at 10 o'clock. A delegation from every school district in the county is expected to attend. The purpose of the meeting is the perfection of constitution and by-laws.

Committee.
